- 10.3 The Seller's liability for breach of these Terms and for reach of any Non-Excludable Condition (other than a guarantee under sections 51, 52 or 53 of the Australian Consumer Law), shall be limited, at the Seller's option, in any one or more of the ways permitted by applicable legislation, including, where so permitted, if the breach relates to Goods which are not of a kind ordinarily acquired for personal, domestic or household use or consumption, to:

- 10.5 In the event of any breach of these Terms by the Seller the remedies of the Buyer shall be limited to damages. Under no circumstances shall the liability of the Seller exceed the Price of the Goods.
- 11. Ownership

- (b) the Buyer has met all other obligations due by the Buyer to the Seller in respect of all the contracts between the Seller and the Buyer, and that such Goods shall be kept separate until the Seller has received such payment and all other obligations of the Buyer have been satisfied.
- 11.2 It is further agreed that until such time as ownership of the Goods shall pass from the Seller to the Buyer, the Buyer:
- (a) is in possession of the Goods as bailee;
- (b) holds the Goods on trust for the Seller;
- (c) must secure the Goods form all risk and otherwise keep the goods full insured against such risks as are common or usual to insure against in a business of a similar nature of that of the Buyer;

- (e) may sell or otherwise supply the Goods in its usual course of business, but must hold the proceeds of such goods on trust for the Seller in a separate account.
- 11.3 Should the Goods be on-sold to a third party before payment in full is received by the Seller, the Buyer assigns to the Seller its right of recovery of payment from the third party.
- 11.4 The Seller may give notice in writing to the Buyer to return the Goods or any of them to the Seller. Upon such notice, the rights of the Buyer to obtain ownership or any other interest in the Goods shall cease.
- 11.5 If the Buyer fails to return the Goods to the Seller in accordance with this clause, the Buyer irrevocably authorises the Seller or the Seller's agent to enter upon and into land and premises owned, occupied or used by the Buyer, or any premises as the invitee of the Buyer, where the Seller reasonably believes the Goods are situated and take possession of the Goods, without being responsible for any damage thereby caused.
- 11.6 If the Buyer sells the Goods prior to payment for those Goods (whether or not the Goods have been incorporated into another product), the proceeds of such sale equivalent to the amount unpaid for the Goods shall be held on trust for the Seller, until such time as payment for the Goods has been made in full.
- 11.7 The Seller may issue proceedings to recover the Price of the Goods sold notwithstanding that ownership of the Goods may not have passed to the Buyer.

- (c) that the security interest referred to in clause 12.1 will continue until the Seller gives the Buyer a final release in writing.
- 12.3 To the extent permitted by law, if the Buyer defaults under these Terms or fails to make any payment by the due date, each security interest created in favour of the Seller will become immediately enforceable.
- 12.4 In addition to any rights arising at law in respect of a breach by the Buyer of these Terms, the Seller exercise any or all remedies of a secured party under the PPSA including taking possession of and either selling or retaining the Goods and paying any expenses incurred in the exercise of any such powers from the realisation of, the Goods.
- 12.5 Where the Seller takes possession of the Goods, the Seller may sell the Goods by any means at any time and from any sale proceeds, deduct all costs incurred in connection with the sale and all monies owed (even if not due and payable) to the Seller by the Buyer on any account. The Seller may recover from the Buyer any shortfall on any sale or attempted sale. The Buyer agrees that it will pay or reimburse the Seller for any costs, losses or other liabilities the Seller incurs or sustains, (including actual legal costs and disbursements on a solicitor and own

- client basis), in connection with the exercise, enforcement or preservation of any right arising under these Terms.
- 12.6 Without limiting clause 12.2(b), the Buyer agrees to do anything (including providing information, obtaining consents, executing, completing and producing documents) which the Seller requests and considers necessary or desirable to:
